Declaration of Voluntary Commitment

We, Heinz Personnel Solutions GmbH, support nursing professionals from the Philippines and India in finding an employer, in entering Germany and, above all, in integrating into life and work in Germany.

We hereby confirm that all statements made in our concept paper and the associated documents correspond to the actual processes and standards of our company. We are clearly committed to ethical, lawful and humane international recruitment of nursing professionals and assume responsibility for all processes in Germany and in the country of origin.

We expressly commit to complying with the requirements of the "Faire Anwerbung Pflege Deutschland" quality seal and to regularly reviewing and further developing our recruitment and integration practices in the spirit of transparency, fairness and sustainability.

We further commit to the six guiding principles of the "Faire Anwerbung Pflege Deutschland" quality seal:

1. Written form for verifiability

All essential information, agreements, contracts and process steps are provided in writing, in a traceable manner and in a language the nursing professional understands.

2. Free of charge recruitment process for nursing professionals

We commit without reservation to the Employer-Pays principle. This means:

- The nursing professional incurs no costs whatsoever for services directly or indirectly related to the recruitment.
- All recruitment costs – including language training, examination fees, visa and document costs, travel and transfer costs as well as recognition fees – are borne exclusively by the employers or the agency.
- This applies without restriction along the entire service chain.

We contractually obligate all employers, cooperation partners and subcontractors to comply with this principle. Any shifting of costs onto the nursing professional is prohibited and renders corresponding agreements immediately invalid.

2.1. Reimbursement of self-paid language course costs

In line with the Employer-Pays principle, we commit to reimbursing nursing professionals for all costs they have paid themselves for language acquisition. This includes in particular language course fees, language examinations and necessary administrative fees in the country of origin.

The reimbursement can be claimed for up to one year retroactively from the signing of the German employment contract and is made no later than the start of employment in Germany, upon presentation of suitable proof of payment.

3. Limitation of the economic risk for nursing professionals

Repayment obligations are only possible within the narrow framework of the RAL criteria and exclusively for costs actually incurred in the country of origin that are traceable and were transparently communicated in advance.

4. Transparency regarding structures, services and costs

We communicate all rights, obligations, process steps and services completely, in writing, comprehensibly and early to nursing professionals, employers and partners.

5. Sustainability and participation

We support nursing professionals throughout their integration in professional, linguistic and social terms. Feedback is collected systematically and incorporated into the optimisation of our processes.

6. Overall responsibility for the entire service chain

We obligate all partner agencies and subcontractors to comply with these standards and review their implementation regularly. In the event of violations, our rights of review and termination are consistently exercised.

Compliance with international standards

1. WHO Global Code of Practice

We comply with the WHO Global Code of Practice on the International Recruitment of Health Personnel, the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and all relevant international human rights treaties.

We recruit exclusively from countries that are not on the WHO "Health Workforce Support and Safeguards List".

Current recruitment countries: the Philippines and India.

2. ILO standards and guidelines

We comply with:

- ILO core labour standards
- ILO General Principles and Operational Guidelines for Fair Recruitment

3. UN Guiding Principles, human rights and the International Bill of Human Rights

We are committed to:

- UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights (UNGP)
- relevant international human rights treaties, such as:
    - International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR)
    - International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ICESCR)
    - UN Convention against Human Trafficking (Palermo Protocol)
    - UN Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW)
    - UN Convention against Discrimination in Employment

Within the framework of this declaration, we further assure:

- Compliance with the ILO core labour standards, the guidelines of the International Labour Organization (ILO) for fair recruitment and the WHO Global Code of Practice on the International Recruitment of Health Personnel

- No direct or indirect placement fees or other costs for nursing professionals, neither before, during nor after the placement (Employer-Pays principle)
- Full assumption of the costs for language courses, examinations, visas, travel and recognition procedures
- Where repayment clauses are agreed, only in accordance with the RAL guidelines and exclusively for actually incurred, verifiable costs that were transparently communicated in advance
- Waiver of any form of retention clause that violates ethical or legal standards
- Recruitment exclusively from countries outside the WHO warning list for critical shortages of nursing staff
- Ensuring that all commissioned third parties (partner agencies, subcontractors) comply with the same ethical, legal and quality standards; regular review of these partners
- Transparent communication of all rights, obligations, process steps and possible costs from the beginning of the placement process – in writing and in a language the nursing professional understands
- Support with all integration-related measures in Germany, including professional, linguistic and social integration
- Promotion of a positive welcome culture, individual guidance and long-term retention with the employer
- Active collection and evaluation of feedback from professionals, partners and clients for continuous improvement
- Processing of personal data in accordance with the GDPR and our internal data protection concept
- Clear consent to the use of image material for public relations purposes – revocable at any time
- Exclusive cooperation with Heinz Personnel Solutions GmbH during the placement process

We regard this declaration as the binding foundation of our work and guarantee that all persons within our company and our partner organisations comply with these standards.

We foster a culture of openness, receptiveness to criticism and continuous improvement. Feedback from professionals, partners and clients is actively collected, evaluated and incorporated into the optimisation of our processes.
